

This group focuses on issues for people affected by head, neck, and mouth cancers including family and friends who support them.

It also provides a safe space for connection and discussion. The chance to meet others who understand and to form important friendships and networks are some of the bonuses you will find.

The evening sessions offer the opportunity to join face-to-face or connect online and listen to presentations by expert presenters who provide solutions and strategies.

The afternoon sessions are an informal afternoon-tea catch up and sharing time.
